FRANZ THE LONELY ASTRIONAUT - Magazine for Narrative Drawing

Named after the one and only austrian astronaut Franz Viehböck, FRANZ started in 2010 as a small self-published zine made by a group of art-students searching for a way to publish their artworks in a more self-determined way. The magazine has a focus on the drawn picture and its narrative qualities and every issue has a central topic. It is also a goal to get more presence and interest for the medium comic in the austrian art world.
